SUBMARINE FEARED ATTACK.

For Attack on Arabic.

Berlin, Sept. 8, via London,-Ger many's note to the United States concerning the sinking of the White Star line steamer Arabic by a German submarine was communicated to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, yesterday evening.

The note ascribes the destruction of the liner to an act of self-defense on the part of the submarine, expresses the German government's deep regret that American lives were lost thereby and offers to refer the ques tion of reparation and compensation

The note reveals in detail the in structions to submarine commanders concerning their treatment of liners. They are ordered not to attack a pas senger steamer except in case of an attempt to escape after it is ordered to halt or unless its actions indicate an intention to attack the submarine The right to sink a hostile ship after the passengers and crew has been placed in boats presumably is not affected by these instructions. The submarine commander according to his report concerning the Arabic said he believed the Arabic was about to attack the submarine and that therefore he acted within his in-German naval experts declare there s no other course open to submar ines under the present conditions when, they assert, every merchantman, from liner down to fishing smack, is a presumptive enemy and perhaps carrying guns and ready to seize any oportunity to attack the vuinerable submarine by gunfire or by ramming. Berlin, Sept. 8, via London,-The commander of a German submarine which has returned to its base has reported to the admiralty that he torpedoed the liner Arabic in the belief that the Arabic's action indicated she was about to attack the submarine and that he fired in self-defense. According to the submarine commanders report the submarine was engaged in destroying a freighter when the Arabic was sighted. The submarine was then on the surface. The Arabic the commander de clares, swung around and headed toward the freighter as if to attack the submarine. The commander of the underwater boat remained in doubt as to the intention of the Arabie when the latter changed her course and are not bothered about the call- a few points but still kept headed in a direction that was bringing her near or to the scene. The captain of the submarine reports that he continued to observe the actions of the liner until he say the Arabic again change her course and head directly for the spot where the submarine lay, as if the Arable had sighted the undersea boat. Then the commander of the submarine, believing his craft was in danger, he declared, submereged her and fired a

One of the characteristics of H. II. Rogers of Standard Oil fame was his love of a joke even at his own expense. The humor lost nothing by that in Mr. Rogers' opinion. This was one of his favorite stories:

He, William C. Whitney and several other friends were discussing the succession to the presidency of Yale, then vacant before the election of Professor Hadley, who then held the chair of economics. Another professor, longer at the university than Dr. Hadley, was a candidate, and his chances of winning the honor were under discussion. "Well," said Mr. Rogers, "if I had been as long around Yale as Professor be president." Novel Radbit Catcher.

Crabs are put to a curious use on certain parts of the Devenshire foreshore. They are used to catch rabbits. Having located a promising burrow, the source takes a crab and affixes a short length of lighted candle to the back of its shell. The behavior of a crab which finds itself in a narrow inclosure is well known. It begins to run. It therefore starts away up the burrow at top rate and presently the rabbit is horrified at the sight of a jog trotting flame coming to his sanctuary. Off he goes for the other exit, only to find himself, when he emerges, in a trap. London Speciator.

HOLDS MEETINGS IN BENNINGTON

LOCAL

Meetings Opened at County Court House Wednesday and Are Continued Today.

Small but enthusiastic audiences greeted the members of the Flying Squadron of New England, who are touring Vermont in the Interests of prohibition, at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon and evening. Sever to await word from Secretary Lansal interesting and instructive addresses were given and a number of good vocal selections by Mr. and Mrs John C. Sutfrin, W. W. Bartlett, secretary of the Bennington County Improvement association presided in the afternoon and John Spargo at the eveniug session.

Rev. W. F. Meyer, pastor of the Baptist church, opened the exercises of the afternoon with prayer, after which the chairman introduced James H. Woertendyke. Mr. Woertendyke, who was for many years a minister took up the study of law so that he might attack the liquor traffic from a legal standpoint. The speaker explained to the audience what the Flying Squadron meant and its plans and purposes which are, namely, to procure five million voters who will stand steadfunstly for total prohibi tion and thus control the vote on the liquor question. It is hoped that this can be accomplished by July 1916 Mr. Woertendyke declared that the Flying Squadron was not a money making affair nor were the members out for a good time as some people have been wrongly informed, but that the association of which they are part is willing and eager to enter into any fight, however small, against the liquor traffic in any community, town or state. The fight is not only against this traffic as confined to the state but to the country as a whole, as the interstate commerce commission has declared that liquor cau be legall transported from one state to anoth er, even if one state be dry territory The speaker closed his remarks with a plea that the people may unite against this great peril of the country and do their part in making up a vote to control it. Following the address of Mr. Woertendyke, an entertaining vocal selection was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Sutfrin, Prof. John A. Nicholls spoke on the gradual evolution of the prohibition movement. He informed those who were not satisfied with the problbitory law which existed in Vermont prior to 1902 that the law now pro posed was not similiar to the previous one but was modelled after the vention of the association will be held Kansas prohibitory law which is at present working satisfactorily. The speaker told of the uselessness of local option laws and other attempts at regulating the liquor traffic. Mr. Nicholls declared that saloons were a disgrace to the community in which they existed and asked his audience for their aid in the furtherance of a nation-wide prohibition movement. At the evening session, the audience again had the pleasure of lis tening to an address by Mr. Woertendyke who spoke on the "Protective Attitude of the Law in Regard to the Liquor Traffic." The speaker discussed the stand of the federal government on this question and the lay ish manner in which the liquor interests spend money to defeat prohibition. Mr. Woertendyke closed his speech with a wish for the co-operation of those present in the fight which the Flying Squadron is making against the sale of liquor in our coun-

> Subjects Warned Against Working in Plants Making Munitions for Enemy.

Washington, Sept. 9-Dr. Constantin Dumba, Austro-Hungarian embassador, left Washington late vesterday ing as to whether the United States government is satisfied with his explanation of his intercepted letter to the Vienna foreign office outlining plans for withdrawing Austro-Hungar ian labor and handicapping American plants manufacturing war supplies.

The embassador's statement to Mr Lansing made Tuesday that he was acting under instructions from his government in all that he planned to do apparently has maode a diplomatic issue of the affair far more serious than a mere question of ethics or propriety involving only Dr. Dumba him-

Silence on the subject was observed again yesterday at the White House and state department and so reached as to what course shall be adopted. The president, carrying the cabled copy of the embassador's letter, walked over to the department vesterday morning, surprised Secretary Lansing in his office and spent 15 minutes discussing the situation.

Before leaving Washington Embas ployment for the workmen who are expected to walk out of the munitions plants. Secretary Wilson was Acting Secretary Densmore. It is no secret in official circles that the administration would countenance any sort of participation in such a movement.

It is understood that the embassador proposes to go ahead with his plans without regard to the attitude of the American government. At the embassy yesterday it was emphasized increase their advantage. that the only step so far ordered in the instructions from Vienna was the issuance of a proclamation calling upon all Austro-Hungarian subjects to obey the decree of their government against aiding in the manufacture of war munitions for the enemy.

A decree similar to this one was issued some time ago by Germany. It is stated that soon after the decree was proclaimed most of the Germans employed in munitions plants, chiefly in executive or scientific departments quietly sought other positions without waiting for urging through diplomatic agencies,

Ceremony at Old Bennington Summer Residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Jennings Wednesday Afternoon

The marriage of Miss Margaret late J. H. Outhwaite of Cleveland. O., to Edward Stevens, son of Mrs. George E. Steveas of New York, took place at Wayside, the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings at Old Bennington, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Isaac Jennings, pastor of the Old First church, a brother of Mr. Jennings, was the officiating clergyman.

The ceremony was performed be fore an altar banked with lillies of the valley in the living room, where a pretty scheme of decoration was carried out with white lillies against backgrounds of green. The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Jennings, sister of the bride, and he bridesmalds were Miss Hart Shields of Trey and Miss Dorothy Moen of Worcester, Mass. George Edward Stevens brother of the bridegroom, was the best may and the ushers were Edward H. Townsend and S. P. Platt of New York, Charles B. Waller of . Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Walton K. Blair of Chicago.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white sath with trimmings of point applique lace. Her veil of dotted white applique lace fell to the effice of the train. She carried a bounnet of lillies of the valley and her only ornaments were a necklace of pearls. and diamond piu, the gift of the bridegroom. Mha Elizabeth Jennings' gown was of light green and silver satin covered with flounces of lace. She camfed bride roses.

The bridesmalds were green and silver satin with over dresses of pleated tulle edged with silver. They carried bride reses.

The bride's going away dress was an automobile suit of fine grey gabardine and she wore a small close fitting hat to match:

Immediately following the service there was a high ten and reception for the bridal party and guests. The couple left by automobile amid a shower of rice and rose leaves. Upon the completion of their bridal trip they will reside at 103 East 86th street, New York.

Among the guests were Prof. and Mrs. A. V. W. Jackson, Prof. Michael Pupin, Misa Louise Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Smith, Miss. Virginia Smith, Wellington B. Hay. Miss Elizabeth Kendall, Miss Charlotte Platt, Miss Keck, Johnfritz Achelis, George Dixon, Gordon Rand, Charles Marshall, Louis Wiggin, Daniel Heald and John Apple ton of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Camp, ir., Miss Janet Camp of New Haven, Conn., Miss Florence Heywood of Worcester, Mass., Miss Nomina Twining, Troy, Miss Elizabeth Phelps of Binghampton, N. Y., Miss Helen-Wilson of Providence, R. I., Miss Mabel Jones and Chomondeley Thorn ton of Hoston, George Van Gorder of Cleveland, Peter Borden of Philadelphia and George Stanley of Great-Barrington, Mass.

Miss Outhwaite is a debutante of this year and for the past three years has attended Miss Porter's school at Farmington, Conn. Mr. Stevens graduated from Yale university, class of 1912; and is connected with the New Haven Clock company which was founded by his great-grandfather, Chauncey Jerome, and of which his grandfather and father were active officers. As it has been the custom of the young people to pass their vacations at the summer homes of their parents in Bennington, they have made many close friends, both among the residents and members of the summer colony at Old Bennington, whose best wishes will follow them to their .541 new home.
